

A YEAR OF INNOVATION

A learning community known for academic excellence, Lancaster Seminary, in our 191st year, took bold steps to better serve the contemporary Church and the world, launching innovative new curricula and schedules for the Master of Divinity and Doctor of Ministry degree programs, and introducing a new Master of Arts in Ministry and Leadership; the Master of Arts in Religion rounds out our degree program offerings.

The only United Church of Christ seminary in the mid-Atlantic region, we are uniquely qualified to offer your members in discernment the outstanding theological preparation and justice advocacy for which the UCC is known.

THE NEW DOCTOR OF MINISTRY

Our new DMin integrates theological reflection with your ongoing practice of ministry. Enjoy the rare opportunity to engage with others on the big questions like how wide is God's mercy and what is needed for human flourishing? Blends on-campus intensive courses each semester with online classes.

Day & Weekend Tracks
Accessible and Affordable

Our new MDiv is highly acclaimed by students who can choose the Day Track, with classes 3 1/2 days a week, or the Weekend Track, with classes on Friday night and Saturday morning. The flexible schedules, unique, integrative courses, the practical field education, and our cross-cultural immersion program combine to prepare graduates for the challenges of contemporary religious engagement.

THE NEW MASTER OF ARTS IN MINISTRY & LEADERSHIP

We are thrilled to introduce this entirely new professional degree, a program of study, worship, practice, and common life that supports leaders who join in God's work in the world and designed to enhance the leadership of those already established in a ministry setting. The 48-credit program features a Day Format, which can be completed in just 2 years, and Weekend Format, designed to be completed in 3 years. In addition to Lancaster Theological Seminary, courses also are offered at three partner schools: Franklin & Marshall College, Millersville University, and Eastern Mennonite University.

Educating and nurturing leaders to join in God's redemptive and liberating work so that all creation may flourish
