

A vibrant institution. A leader in contemporary theological education.
Uniquely qualified to offer your members in discernment outstanding theological preparation

"We thank you, the churches of the conference, for sending students and financial resources to your seminary.

"You are partners with us in launching a new era in theological education for the flourishing of the church and its leaders."

-- President Carol E. Lytch, PhD

OUR NEW DMIN, a 3-year, 30-credit program, has attracted a diverse inaugural class from 8 states and Mexico, drawn to the deep learning, shared wisdom, and flexible schedule with online classes and weeklong on-campus intensives in October and May.

OUR NEW MDIV is thriving with a weekday 3-year option and weekend 4-year option. Our nationally recognized debt-reduction program – Managing Debt for Vitality in Life and Ministry – helps seminarians graduate without the burden of crippling debt.

OUR NEW MASTER'S IN MINISTRY & LEADERSHIP is an ecumenical professional degree program of study, worship, practice, and common life for leaders, both lay and ordained.

OUR WORLD-CLASS FACULTY teach, preach, present, and publish. A few highlights:

- Dr. David M. Mellott authored Finding Your Way in Seminary: What to Expect, How to Thrive (WJK, 2016).
- Dr. Greg Carey wrote New Testament Apocalyptic Literature, part of the Core Bible Studies series (Abingdon Press, 2016).
- Dr. Julia M. O'Brien will edit the Oxford Handbook of the Minor Prophets.
- Dr. Lee C. Barrett lectured on his book Eros and Self-Emptying at Scotland's St. Andrews University and Radboud University in the Netherlands.
- Rev. Dr. Stephanie M. Crumpton received a Baldwin Fellowship focusing on African ethnic heritage and holistic healing of traumatized individuals and communities.

NEW PATH TO SEMINARY We now offer an exclusive accelerated bachelor's completion program with Elizabethtown College for students who want to pursue a Master of Divinity but lack an undergraduate degree.
